

ABSTRACT

A device includes a substrate and a first layer disposed adjacent the substrate. A second layer is disposed adjacent the first layer. A third layer contains a gap and is disposed adjacent the second layer. A fuse is electrically 5 coupled to the third layer and is located in the proximity of the gap in the third layer.